VAGARIES OF SOUND.

Acoustic Phenomena That Are Puzzling to Scientists.

At twilight some time ago at a life saving station of the English coast noises were heard that sounded like signal shots from some distance at sea.

A boat was launched and sped with all possible energy to the place from which the sounds seemed to have come, but it returned without having heard or seen anything further. Yet the sea man who had been left behind on guard declared solemnly that in the meantime he had heard near shore unmistakable cries for help from drowning persons. The bluejackets themselves are most inclined to regard the whole matter as supernatural and the voices as spectral. Scientists say that it is possible, however, that such sounds may be audible in remarkable distinctness where there is a high coast, though they may come from a great distance, especially when persons there are placed accidentally so that behind them rises a wall which receives the sound and throws it back.

On some coasts that are often visited by fog a legend of so called "fog shots" has acquired vogue. These are said to have their origin, for some reason not yet fathomed, within the masses of fog. Acoustic phenomena are of such a strange kind that the investigation of them may be said to be still very far from conclusive. The most inexplicable secret lies perhaps not in the occurrence of sounds, the origin of which may be reached only with great difficulty, but in their disappearance and in absolute silence when audible noises should be expected.

Many a ship has been wrecked because its signals of distress, loud and uninterrupted, have remained inaudible, although only a very short distance from the coast.

But, again, it happens that in such an instance the very same signals become audible at a far greater distance, where they provoke great excitement.

A remarkable example of this was produced by the firing of guns by the English fleet in the roadstead at Spithead on Feb. 1, 1901, as a token of mourning for Queen Victoria. This was not heard at all by many persons close at hand who were listening for it, while at places much farther away it was heard plainly. The direction of the wind failed to explain this aberration of the waves of sound.—Chicago News.

PEGGY'S ADVICE.

Why It Suddenly Changed From Excellent to Worthless.

It was the era of the first Quincy baby, and the attention of the entire Quincy family, consisting solely of mother and father, was directed to the proper upbringing of the infant

Books on babyhood were bought and digested. Suitable magazines were subscribed for. Friends and mothers were consulted on every point. But, to the wonder of the solicitors, Mrs.

Quincy declared that the advice that did the most good was that which appeared in the morning paper, signed with the fetching name "Peggy." But the time came when even that was discarded.

"Aren't you going to read me the little lesson from the Journal for today?" asked Mr. Quincy at the breakfast table.

"I shall never read that stuff to any one any more," said the mother firmly.

"Why not? Only day before yesterday you were saying what excellent recommendations Peggy made about crying children. Why do you desert

THE DEEP SEA DIVER

Perils Against Which the Modern

Expert Must Guard.

PROTECTING HIS AIR TUBE.

This Is His Chief Care While Delving

In the Debris of Sunken Wrecks.

Tragic Debut of John Day, a Clever but Ignorant Old Timer.

A great deal of water has run under the bridge since, in the month of June,

1774, John Day made his fatal debut as a diver in Plymouth sound. Day, a clever but ignorant millwright, had laid numerous wagers that, confined in a water tight box and provided with a candle, food and drink, he would return submerged at any depth for twelve hours. His plan was that the box should be fastened by screws from within to a vessel subsequently sunk and that when the allotted time had elapsed he should withdraw the screws and rise to the surface. His mad scheme was actually put into execution on June 22, and Day, as might have been expected, lost his life. Not the least extraordinary part of the affair is that the water would affect his box and greatly increase its strength in consequence, no one seems to have so much as hinted at the danger of his death from want of air.

The diver who goes down today to salvage the contents of a sunken wreck, recover a dropped torpedo or execute some submarine erection or repairs has better knowledge of the necessary risks he runs and the precautions by which he may avoid all needless danger at his work than had poor Day.

Science, mindful of the great increase of pressure brought about by every foot that he descends beneath the surface of the sea, warns him to go slowly down the stepladder that hangs from the ship's side or the dock wall and to pause frequently as he does so, for the man grows accustomed to the increase by degrees. By this means a man fits for the work, sound of heart and free from apoplectic tendencies passes with little inconvenience from the moderate pressure of eight pounds per square inch, which surrounds him at a depth of twenty feet, to that of sixty-five pounds, which he must sus-tain after descending 150 feet—the greatest depth at which his work can be considered safe.

Once landed at the bottom of the sea the diver has a host of things to bear in mind. Weighted as he is with brass soled boots, copper helmet and often a treble set of underclothing below his diving suit of twill and rubber, the tendency to rise is yet so great that his powers of action are very limited. He can lift a comparatively heavy weight with ease, but the attempt to pull down some trifling piece of wreckage from overhead will probably take him off his feet. Readers of Robert Louis Stevenson will remember how when, dressed in full deep sea costume, he accompanied a diver to his work the novelist was able to hop with ease upon the summit of a rock some six feet high.

But descend again he could not. His companion hauled him off head down-

The Greatest Disaster In the World's History.

THE appalling calamity which overtook the Island of Sicily and the Province of Calabria, Italy, by earthquake, tidal wave and fire, last Monday morning, will go down in the corridors of Time as one of the greatest horrors in all the history of the world. The loss of 250,000 lives, the destruction of hundreds of millions of property and the pillaging and suffering following the destruction of the eighteen or twenty cities, towns and villages in the earthquake zone by comparison causes the destruction wrought by the California earthquake of that April morning of 1906, to sink into insignificance.

The wide-spread suffering and destitution and the frightful condition of the hundreds of thousands of survivors, as described by the dispatches from Messina, Reggio and other stricken cities appeals to the whole civilized world for prompt and generous assistance.

Let Sonoma be not backward in contributing to the fund that has been so spontaneously started in the four quarters of the globe to relieve the distress of the survivors of the appalling disaster. Relief for the sufferers must come from everywhere, and it must be prompt, to save the surviving thousands from pestilence and famine.

Got His Just Deserts.

THE sentencing of Abe Ruef to fourteen years imprisonment by Judge Lawler the other day will be approved by all good citizens and it is to be hoped the sentence will stick this time. It is now in order for the prosecution to send Schmitz, the boodling Mayer, to join his pal in crime. Both should have been doing "time" long ago.

PROMINENT MAN NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH.

L. L. Lewis, the Retired Capitalist, Enveloped
in Blazing Gasoline

Saves His Life by Diving into a Big Water Trough--His Burns Serious.

L. L. Lewis, President of the Yulupa Land and Water Company and retired capitalist, had a narrow escape from meeting a horrible death last Thursday morning by being roasted alive in blazing gasoline. As it is, his condition as we go to press is serious, as he was badly burned about his hands, arms and body, and the doctors cannot state what the outcome will be.

The accident occurred on the Lewis ranch about 6 o'clock in the morning, while Mr. Lewis was engaged in filling the tank of his automobile with gasoline, preparatory to taking a run down to El Verano to catch the morning train for San Francisco.

The machine was hauled out of the barn by a hired man and with a lighted coal oil lamp in one hand to light the way, as it was not yet daylight, and a five-gallon can of gasoline in the other, Mr. Lewis was preparing to fill the tank of the automobile.

Suddenly there was a flash and explosion and in an instant Mr. Lewis was enveloped from head to foot in blazing gasoline. With rare presence of mind, he rushed to a big water trough near-by and plunged head first into the water and extinguished the flames almost instantly, but not before the clothes were almost burned off his back and various parts of the body had been seared by the blazing gasoline.

The flames, immediately after the explosion of the gasoline, scattered in every direction and were extinguished by ranch employees just in time to save the barn and outbuildings.

In the meantime, Mr. Lewis had been assisted into the house and a phone message sent for Dr. Leix, who was soon beside the sufferer applying soothing lotions to the burns, which were confined to various parts of the body, the burns on the hands and arms being the more severe.

Mr. Lewis also had most of the hair burned off the back of his head and his whiskers and eyebrows were singed, but Dr. Leix does not think his patient inhaled the flames.

Mr. Lewis' condition was considered so serious Friday morning that Dr. E. Z. Hennessey of Napa was summoned to the bedside of the sufferer and as we go to press in the afternoon the doctors are holding a consultation.

SONOMA COUNTY GRAND JURY.

Accuses Supervisor Armstrong of Malfeasance in Office.

The Sonoma County Grand Jury has sprung one of the sensations hinted at in these columns last week. On Monday last that body filed an accusation against Supervisor Geo. L. Armstrong of Sebastopol, charging him with misconduct and directing the District Attorney to commence proceedings against him to have him removed from office.

The Grand Jury further ordered the District Attorney to institute a civil suit against Supervisor Armstrong and his bondsmen to recover the sum of $714, alleged to have been overdrawn on road bills by his road overseers, James A. Walls, Walter Church and J. Ronshimer.

The action of the Grand Jury created a big sensation throughout the county, as Supervisor Armstrong has always stood high in the estimation of those who knew him, and his acquaintance throughout the county is extensive.

The specific charge against the offending Supervisor is that he swore to the correctness of the bills of his road overseers without knowing whether they were correct or not. Supervisor Armstrong, it appears, had great confidence in his road overseers and never for a moment questioned their honesty and accepted without question the correctness of the road bills when he made affidavit that they were proper charges against the county.

The amount alleged to have been improperly drawn, $714, is embraced in various road bills covering a period of three years.

Supervisor Armstrong has been cited to appear before the Superior Court on Monday, January 11th, to answer the charge and show cause why he should not be deprived of his office.

Just what the outcome of these charges will be is not now safe to predict as the accused Supervisor and his road overseers have yet to be heard from.

The Board of Education of this county has been busy the past week in Santa Rosa examining the replies to the questions asked at the recent grammar school examinations held throughout the county. The Board expects to conclude its labors next week.

The weather the past week has been the most gloomy and miserable ever experienced in the valley. The atmosphere is damp and the sun has been obscured for ten days in succession. It sure is disagreeable weather and reminds one of the dispositions of some people.

John O'Brien has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of Mary O'Brien, his deceased wife, who passed away many years ago. As a similar petition was filed in the Superior Court of this county a few weeks ago by Mrs. Gough, a daughter, there is a lively legal battle in sight over the estate.

THE PASSING OF
TWO OLD RESIDENTS

Mrs. G. L. Schell and F. Nichellini Passed Away
Last Monday.

One by one the old-time residents of the Sonoma Valley are passing away and the ranks of those who located here in the fifties and early sixties are rapidly becoming depleted. This week two more of our old residents passed away.

MRS. G. L. SCHELL.
Mrs. Georgianna L. Schell, who had been ill for many months, died at Green's sanitarium in this place last Monday. The remains were shipped to San Francisco, where the funeral took place Thursday from St. Frances de Salls Church.

Mrs. Schell had lived in this valley off and on for fifty years, and when not traveling abroad made her home on the Schell place near Schellville.

Deceased leaves a family of grown children, Fred. Schell of this place being one of the sons. An only sister is Mrs. Henry Butters of San Francisco.

Mrs. Schell was a native of New York and aged 64 years.

FRANCISCO NICHELLINI
Francisco Nichellini, who has resided in this valley for thirty-four years, died on his farm two miles north of Agua Caliente last Monday.

The deceased, who had reached the advanced age of 86 years, had been totally blind for many years but for all that led an active outdoor life almost up to the day of his death.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Caroline Nichellini, and a family of grown sons and daughters. The daughters are Mrs. M. Maffei of this city, Mrs. Virginia Salmi of Adams Springs and Mrs. Caroline Leoni of Calistoga. The sons are Florindo Nichellini of Agua Caliente, Ben Nichellini of Vallejo and Antone Nichellini of Grass Valley.

The deceased was born in Switzerland in 1820.

Funeral services were held in St. Francis church Thursday afternoon by Rev. Father Leahy, after which the remains were followed to their last resting place in Mountain cemetery by a large concourse of relatives and friends.

EDWARD GILLAN
HAS PASSED AWAY

The End Came Peacefully
at His Old Sonoma Home
Early Christmas
Morning.

Edward Gillan, one of Sonoma Valley's oldest pioneer citizens, is dead. The end came peacefully at his old home in this city Christmas morning.

The deceased was one of the intrepid band of Argonauts who came to these golden shores in the forties. He made the trip around the Horn in a sailing vessel, landing in San Francisco in the fall of 1848. Two years later he located in this place, where he continued to reside up to the day of his passing.

In the early days Mr. Gillan took a prominent part in the affairs of this section of the county. He was three times elected roadmaster of Sonoma township and held the office of constable for a number of years and was widely known as a brave and fearless officer.

Mr. Gillan's wife passed away in 1869 but he is survived by a son and daughter, Edwin Gillan and Miss Eda Gillan, with whom he had made his home for years.

The deceased was a man of splendid character which was made manifest during a residence of fifty-nine years in this valley.

Mr. Gillan was born in Washington, D. C., 79 years ago, and was 21 years of age when he came to Sonoma.

The funeral took place Sunday and was one of the largest seen in this city for many years.

Jack London's Aunt Sues For Divorce.

Capt. Eames, who is an old sea captain and ship-builder, is of a roving disposition and when the Londons left on their seven-years' cruise in their little boat, "The Snark," he accompanied them as far as Honolulu, where he disembarked and returned to San Francisco.

THIS IS SAID TO HELP MANY.

Mix This Simple, Helpful Recipe at Home and Try it, Anyway.

Get from any prescription pharmacy the following:
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful dose after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered as the most certain prescription ever written to relieve backache, kidney trouble, weak bladder and all forms of urinary difficulties. This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood, which causes rheumatism.

Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation it is said, was established by it.

A druggist here at home, when asked, stated that he could either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription for our readers, also recommends it as harmless.

Vice Talks by the Office Boy.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," but you'll need an overcoat this kind of weather, just the same. Nature studies will do for the good old summer time, but not for this winter. The weather is just a little snappier than I have ever seen it in California and I've been here nearly 14 years. Snappy is the word that fits our overcoats, suits, cardigan jackets, ladies coats and many other lines in this shop. Some of the clerks think the boss laid in too many suits and overcoats. He certainly did buy them to burn; but, say, the only thing they burn up is all the other coats that ever came to this valley. That sounds a little boastful, but we can deliver the goods. Don't forget our two-dollar hat. Take a look at our overcoats for kids.
